

OFFICIALS DEFINE PRESIDENT'S ORDER

Retrenchment Instructions
Merely Meant No Raises in Salaries.

The order issued by the President the other day to the heads of the Departments to cut down expenses does not mean, it was said at the Treasury Department today, that no additional help will be asked for. The order meant that no salaries are to be increased. Reports already submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury from bureau chiefs contain recommendations for an increase in the clerical force of the several divisions of the department, and it is understood the additional help will be estimated for in the budget to be sent to Congress in December.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury, George B. Cortelyou, will show an increase in Government business all along the line, and if departmental help will be needed in every one of the executive departments. Several years ago, when there was quite a pronounced demand for clerks, especially in the Navy Department, Justice Moody, of the Supreme Court, then Secretary of the Navy, looked up the law on the hours of labor as applied to department clerks, with the result that he issued an order requiring his clerks to work until 4:30 p. m. The other departments followed suit, and that year Congress made but scant provision for additional clerks for the departments.

It would not be a surprise if another half hour work day on the part of department clerks. The law governing the hours of labor of the department clerks says they shall work not less than seven hours. If the eight-hour law should apply to the department clerk, the clerks would get pay for overtime, but under the existing law the clerks can be required to work eight or nine hours and not an extra penny do they get.

JUDGE'S SON KICKS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Called Blatherskite by Lawyer, Crowd Cheers as Official Is Thumped.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Oct. 28.—Because Colin S. Campbell, attorney general of Manitoba, called him a blatherskite, E. S. Howell, son of the chief justice of Manitoba, kicked him across the main street yesterday afternoon, urged on to further action by hundreds of enthusiastic spectators of both political persuasions. Trouble arose Saturday night, when Attorney General Campbell had two men arrested for alleged political effect. Howell demanded their release on bail, but Campbell refused and called him a blatherskite. Howell then demanded public apology on sight or kick the rotund figure of the attorney general across the street. The meeting came yesterday afternoon, and Campbell refused to apologize. Howell then made good his threat. Howell was arrested and released on $2,000 bail.

SHOPKEEPERS FEAR VIOLENCE BY MOBS

British Tradesmen Insure Against
Damage by the Hungry Unemployed.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Terrified by recent riots of England's unemployed thousands and by threats of still more serious disorders as the weather grows colder, shopkeepers in the large English, Welsh, and Scotch towns are today insuring heavily against losses at the hands of the mobs.
